Chair's welcome

It has been an eventful 12 months since my last report, when I set out the principles adopted by the Board to guide the Society through the pandemic.

These were: protecting the health, safety and wellbeing of colleagues and members; preserving our financial security; and safely maintaining service to our members.

I am pleased to report that adhering to these principles, together with the outstanding efforts of colleagues, led to an excellent performance by the Society.

Performance

During 2021, normality began to return and the recovery of the economy was better than might have been anticipated, with an extremely strong housing market, low interest rates and intense competition. However, more recent developments remind us of the continued fragility and uncertainty the pandemic has caused.

As the economy stabilised and the housing market rebounded, we were keen to return to supporting borrowers and, particularly, first time buyers. Whilst maintaining appropriate lending standards, we were pleased to achieve record lending for the year.

We also remained focused on borrowers in financial difficulty, and the majority of those who required mortgage payment deferrals during the pandemic were able to resume normal repayments.

We remained mindful of the impact low interest rates have on savers and we used our financial strength to protect them, consistently paying above average rates. We kept branches open and our colleagues provided a professional, personal service to our members.

The Society delivered an exceptionally strong financial performance but, as a mutual, maximising profit is not our objective. Our aim is to optimise benefits to members and generate enough profit to keep the Society secure, grow the business and invest for the future.

Leeds Building Society was established nearly 150 years ago to provide the means for members to own homes, as well as offering a safe place for their savings. That purpose remains true today. Throughout that time, our obligation has always been to consider not just the interests of today's members, but also to ensure we can serve the needs of future generations.

As part of a multi-year improvement programme, we made further investments in technology, in our people, in our branch network, in upgrading our data centres, and in strengthening our operational resilience. These are aimed at ensuring the Society meets the needs of its members and intermediary partners.

The times we are living through clearly illustrate the interconnectedness of society and remind us of the Society's obligation to address challenges confronting us all.

We are working to reduce our environmental impact and analysing how we do this, as well as supporting our members to cut their own carbon footprint. We continue to make progress on equality, diversity and inclusion, and at the heart of our community engagement is our partnership with Dementia UK, supporting its services to reach more people.

Board changes

We strengthened the Board with appointments which broaden skills, experience and diversity.

I am delighted that Rob Howse, our Chief Operating Officer, joined the Board as an Executive Director. Rob joined the Society in 2019 and his extensive experience of technology transformation and operational resilience equips him ideally to lead our ambitious IT and change agenda.

We welcomed Anita Tadayan as an independent Non-Executive Director. Anita is Global Portfolio & Digital Product Roadmap & Lifecycle Director at BT Group and brings 15 years' experience in senior transformation and operations roles with major brands, including Sky and Centrica, as well as for local and central government and primary care trusts.

In recognition of his broadened responsibilities, Andrew Greenwood, formerly Chief Risk Officer, was appointed as Deputy Chief Executive Officer.

To maintain continuity after a period of change, David Fisher has agreed to serve beyond the recommended nine-year term for non-executive directors. David continues to make an outstanding contribution to the Board and I am grateful to him extending his service until the end of 2022. He is succeeded as Chair of the Board Risk Committee by Neil Fuller (subject to regulatory approval), who was appointed as a non-executive director in December 2020.

Sadly, the pandemic has prevented us from meeting members face to face for our past two AGMs. We are hopeful members can attend this year, but we will be guided by the need to keep members and colleagues safe. In any event, we welcome members' questions or comments relating to Board matters at any time – email these to agm@leedsbuildingsociety.co.uk (marked 'For the attention of Iain Cornish').

Outlook

While the impact of the pandemic will stay with us for a long time, our focus remains on bringing home ownership within reach of more people, as well as offering long-term value to our savers.

More competition has entered our markets as the economy has recovered. Consequently, we do not expect the current levels of profitability to continue over the long term, but we do expect to maintain an exceptional level of financial strength and our capacity to invest to the benefit of our members.

Members can draw confidence from the fact we have continued to show great resilience in testing times, underpinned by the mutual values of shared strength and co-operation.

Finally, I would like to thank all my colleagues for their outstanding efforts in serving members, intermediary partners and other stakeholders, and supporting each other through the course of a highly demanding year.

review of 2021

and reflects on the

but successful year for the Society, I wanted to last 12 months and look back at some of our 2021 highlights.

How do you reflect on the year the Society has had?

2021 was a real landmark year for the Society and I'm very proud of our performance and our colleagues.

We gave record levels of support to first time buyers and the housing market in general, we supported savers and we invested in our future as an organisation.

We showed some real leadership in the green finance space, as well as with our own efforts to reduce the Society's impact on the environment.

Colleagues and members have done a fantastic job raising more than £380,000 so far for Dementia UK and supporting local communities.

Plus, we stayed focused on all our members' needs throughout the year, which is something we must never lose sight of, regardless of what else is going on around us.

What were the biggest challenges for you in 2021?

The biggest challenges obviously related to the pandemic and all the changing restrictions we had to adapt to.

Balancing keeping colleagues safe but also making sure we provided the essential services we offer our members was our biggest challenge, and it was tricky. I hope we got that right. Colleagues and members have told us we did, but it wasn't always easy.

We also saw record volumes in terms of mortgages, and working in a hybrid world we had to manage real surges of demand at times. But the team came together brilliantly, and I think we succeeded in delivering positive results people should be proud of.

We supported mortgage members throughout 2021 – why is this important to you?

In 2021 we tried to support our members on all fronts, and that's extremely important because ultimately, we're a member-owned organisation with a clear purpose.

That purpose is all about putting home ownership in reach of more people. One way we did that was by staying in the 95% loan to value Shared Ownership lending market all the way through the pandemic, as it's an area of the market in which we can support first time buyers in particular.

We also introduced our First Homes proposition this year, to make sure we're at the forefront of supporting key workers buying their first home. I was proud that Society members like Laura and Carl (who we feature on page 13), were the very first people to get their feet on the housing ladder through the First Homes scheme.

But equally, we know times have been tough for many and we've helped our members who have been affected financially by the impact of the pandemic. We waived arrears fees in 2021, and we're continuing to do that as 2022 begins. We also helped borrowers who took mortgage payment deferrals during the pandemic to return to regular payments.

2021 was a real landmark year for the Society and I'm very proud of our performance and our colleagues.

Chief Executive Officer's review of 2021

And how have we supported savings members?

We know that the current market has been tough for savings members. But I'm pleased that our financial strength meant we could pay above the average market rate to our savers – equating to an extra £71.5 million in our savers' pockets.¹

We also paid the highest average rate of all our peers at mid-year in terms of our savings rates, which was really pleasing.

We've been innovative too, through products like our new Regular Saver. This is a competitive rate with a two-year term, something different to competitors, to help people get into the habit of saving for something meaningful. We also launched our Dementia UK bond as well as the Dedicate a Tree children's accounts, which both proved successful.

How did we show leadership on the environment in 2021?

The environment is such an important issue for everyone - I'm proud we're leading the way by taking positive action by reducing our emissions and through our mortgage and savings ranges.

We're focused on reducing our carbon footprint as a business, and we achieved carbon net neutral status ahead of many of our competitors and a year ahead of plan. Moving into our new energy efficient head office was a big step towards this.

We also launched our first green mortgages with preferential deals for members with more energy efficient properties. But more than that, we were the first lender to help customers with less energy efficient homes to offset their carbon footprint during the fixed term of their mortgage. That was on a pilot basis across our entire residential 95% loan to value range, and it was an innovative commitment to members.

It's important to me that Leeds Building Society is both inclusive and a place where we have diverse talent with unique perspectives.

Why is it important to you that the Society is a diverse and inclusive organisation?

I grew up in Africa, where I always felt included and positively welcomed. However, there have been times in my life when I've not felt included and it's not a pleasant feeling.

It's important to me that Leeds Building Society is both inclusive and a place where we have diverse talent with unique perspectives, and where we understand and value our diverse members' needs.

There's been some great work done across the Society. Recently, we set up a network of diverse aspiring non-executive directors and several of our Board members spent time sharing their experiences with them. It was really rewarding, and I want to do more of this in 2022.

I want us to be an organisation that's a great place to work, no matter your background, your gender, your sexuality, your ethnicity, your disability or any other difference.

¹Based on CACI's CSDB, Stock, December 2020 to November 2021. CACI is an independent company that provides financial benchmarking data for the retail cash savings market.

What was your proudest moment of 2021?

There's a lot to be proud of at the Society, but I was absolutely delighted we achieved a 3 Star Best Companies employer accreditation. It's a fantastic accolade for colleagues in terms of how committed they've been to support our members through some difficult times. If our colleagues are engaged and positive then that means they're better placed to deliver great service, so I'm very proud of that.

What's your message to members about what you want to achieve in 2022?

Many very successful businesses will say they're purpose led. The difference for us is that our purpose is the reason we were founded almost 150 years ago, and we've been living up to that ever since.

We do need to move with the times and make sure it's relevant, so we've renewed how we articulate our purpose. It's something that the original founders would recognise: "putting home ownership within reach of more people - generation after generation". That's what drives us forward, that's what should focus us in 2022. If we get that right, that will create long-term success for the Society and will benefit all our members.

Finally, what do you enjoy most about your role as CEO of Leeds Building Society?

There are so many aspects of the role I really enjoy, so it's difficult to choose just one! But I love seeing the Society thrive.

As only the 8th CEO in the Society's long history, I know that it's my responsibility to be a custodian for the next generation and to ensure that the Society's strategy sets it up for long-term success and delivers on our purpose. With all we've achieved so far, I believe that's starting to happen.

So, I'd say the best thing for me is just seeing colleagues enthused and engaged about our purpose, working hard to provide brilliant service for our members. That's what I enjoy the most.

We're focused on reducing our carbon footprint as a business, and we achieved carbon net neutral status ahead of many of our competitors and a year ahead of plan.

If you have any questions I've not covered here, you can submit them, in advance of the AGM, by email: agm@leedsbuildingsociety.co.uk or post: Secretary, Leeds Building Society, 26 Sovereign Street, Leeds, LS1 4BJ. Find out more on page 35.

Focusing on your future

Helping you to save and have the home you want is what we're all about, and every decision we make is driven by keeping you and your money in safe hands.

Helping you save or own a home

Meeting increased mortgage demand

2021 continued to see increased demand for mortgages, as changes to stamp duty took effect. In the first half of 2021 alone, we helped 19,000 more people have the home they want.

Our amazing colleagues completed mortgages for 43,000 people this year – 16,750 more than in 2020 – to help keep the market moving.

Giving everyone the chance to get on the ladder

We exist to provide as many people as possible with a chance to own a home, and we helped more first time buyers get on the ladder in 2021 than ever before – more than 20,000 of you. We were also the first provider to complete mortgages for people who qualified for the government's new First Homes affordable home ownership scheme.

When it comes to Shared Ownership, we were also recognised as a leading lender, winning three prestigious industry awards, including Best Shared Ownership Mortgage Lender from What Mortgage.

Best Shared Ownership
Mortgage Lender

New products to help you save

We launched three new products to help you save for your future, while supporting our communities and the planet:

Regular Saver – allows savers to build up a £6,000 nest egg over a two-year period.

A new savings bond to support our charity partner, Dementia UK (see page 14).

A 'Dedicate a Tree' partnership with Yorkshire Dales Millennium Trust – dedicating a tree in the Dales for every new children's savings account opened.

We've been committed to paying above the industry average in our savings rates, helping our members have £71.5 million more in extra interest in their pockets.

Investing in the future of our branch network

Keeping our branches safe, secure and sustainable

We know you love our network of branches across the country, and so do we.

We worked hard to make sure all our branches safely stayed open for essential services in the first half of 2021 as Covid-19 restrictions remained in place. It was nice to welcome more of you back as restrictions eased in the second half of 2021.

In September 2021 we moved our Leeds Central branch to a larger and easier to reach location on a bustling street in the heart of the city, demonstrating our commitment to a sustainable branch network.

Supporting you when you need it most

Times have been tough for many in 2021 as the pandemic continued. We have supported members in financial difficulty with a range of measures including mortgage payment deferrals and continuing to waive mortgage arrears fees. To help us serve you better, we created 121 skilled roles in our head office in data, IT and underwriting.

Laura and Carl First Home buyers, Staffordshire

"We bought our new 3-bed detached house with a Leeds Building Society mortgage in October 2021 through the new First Homes scheme. I [Laura] work in the NHS so qualify for the scheme as a key worker.

Buying a house has been something we've worked towards for the past few years.

When the First Homes scheme became available it was too much of a good opportunity to miss, it enabled us to put down a 10% deposit on our house – something we would probably not have been able to do without the scheme.

We arranged our mortgage through a broker after saving up as much as we could by living with our parents.

There are so many advantages with the scheme, and it gave us a chance to own our first home to grow into."

Making a difference to your community

The pandemic has shown why community matters so much and last year we played our part to support good causes across the country.

£380,000 for Dementia UK

Proudly supporting our charity partner

In 2021 we raised more than £228,000 for our charity partner Dementia UK, bringing the total raised so far to more than £380,000. By the end of 2024, we aim to have supported more than 2,500 families living with dementia by raising a massive £500,000.

Our new three-year fixed rate bond also supported Dementia UK's Closer to Home mobile support clinic, by donating a percentage of the total balances in the product each year of the term. All funds raised through fun colleague initiatives and the savings bond play a key role in keeping the Closer to Home service operating.

Helen Green

Admiral Nurse,
Dementia UK

“Caring for a loved one can be a 24/7 role. Booking a Closer to Home clinic appointment with a dementia specialist Admiral Nurse like me means we can provide tailored support at a time that suits the family.

Family carers often contact our Dementia Helpline during periods of crisis when they need urgent support, and we are always happy to help. But a pre-booked Closer to Home clinic session gives them the opportunity to prepare – for example, by writing down questions, and ensuring someone else can be with the person with dementia so the caller can focus fully on the appointment and take on board the advice we give.

Having the support of Leeds Building Society with this vital service is fantastic. The money raised through the partnership really does make a difference and allows us to support more families when they need it most.”

Paying Fair Tax

We're delighted to have kept our Fair Tax Mark for another year. Paying our fair share of tax in the UK is another way we help the communities where you and our colleagues live and work. We're committed to being open and honest about our tax reporting, paying the right amount of tax, at the right time, in the right places to help our public services like education, social care and health.

Strong Foundations

Making a difference to good causes

Leeds Building Society Foundation continued its good work, donating over £144,000 to more than 158 charities and good causes across the UK. The Foundation works to support those who are disadvantaged or in vulnerable circumstances, including youth associations, volunteer groups and other organisations. One of the charities who benefited was able to buy equipment to allow it to offer tandem cycling in the Lake District for those who are visually impaired.

Proud 15-year sponsors of Leeds Rhinos

We became the longest front-shirt sponsor in Super League history after our 15th season supporting Leeds Rhinos, and we also extended the deal for another two seasons. Our new Fan of the Month competition gave loyal fans a chance to win fantastic prizes and stay connected to their team at a time when they were unable to attend games in person.

Pledge today, change tomorrow

In April 2021, we partnered with the online platform Do Nation to help colleagues make pledges to reduce their environmental footprint. Colleague pledges have ranged from air-drying clothes and taking the stairs rather than the lift, to cutting down on eating meat.

Supporting LEEDS 2023

We're delighted to be announced as one of the first Club Partners for the LEEDS 2023 year of culture. The partnership means that not only can we support the charity financially, but also provide our expertise and services where required as the city hosts 12 signature events and a multitude of creative experiences for people in the city.

Playing our part to help the planet

It's more important than ever to do our bit and reduce our carbon emissions – here's how we've been doing the right thing.

We're carbon neutral – a year early

We're proud that we've attained carbon neutral status for Scope 1 and 2 emissions and Scope 3 emissions (business travel). This means we've reduced the amount of carbon we emit as a business – and we've done this a year earlier than planned.

Scope 1 emissions are the direct greenhouse gas emissions from things like the fuel we use. Scope 2 are the indirect emissions from the electricity we buy, and Scope 3 are indirect emissions from outside our operations⁴.

A tree-mendous partnership

In partnership with Yorkshire Dales Millennium Trust, from July to November 2021 we dedicated a newly planted tree in the Yorkshire Dales for every child's savings account opened.

We also dedicated 1,500 trees on behalf of colleagues, some of whom volunteered to support the creation of new woodlands in the Dales. The trees will grow to form an important habitat for wildlife as well as helping to create a resilient woodland that can help mitigate the impacts of climate change. Over the next 50 years, these trees should offset an estimated 250 tonnes of CO₂.

⁴As defined by the Greenhouse Gas (GHG) Protocol Corporate Standard

Jenepher Parry Davies

Leeds Building Society member, Southampton

"It's important to me that Leeds Building Society is actively supporting ways to tackle climate change. I've been a member of the Society for nearly 40 years.

I've always been concerned about the environment. I'm a vegetarian and only drive when there is no alternative means of travel.

I'm also an avid recycling enthusiast. For several years I've organised a Christmas carol concert in my local church and last year attendees were asked to donate clothes they no longer use for a local homelessness charity.

I'm pleased to learn that my local branch is committed to using renewable energy - I'm glad the Society is doing the responsible thing when it comes to the environment."

Our new green home

In May 2021 our head office colleagues moved into an environmentally friendly, EPC A-rated building in Leeds city centre. Our construction partner Graham was awarded a Gold Green Apple Award for its approach to sustainability on the fit-out, using energy efficient glass and recycled materials where possible. The building is entirely powered by renewable energy sources, just like all our branches.

We've also adopted a mile-long stretch of the river and canal adjacent to our new head office. We'll be working with Canal & River Trust over the next two years to preserve the local greenspaces and encourage native wildlife, flora and fauna.

The Carbon Trust Standard for Carbon

We've proudly retained our Carbon Trust Standard for Carbon - a certification that recognises we're cutting our carbon footprint. It was developed by the Carbon Trust, an independent, expert partner of leading organisations around the world, helping them contribute to and benefit from a more sustainable future.

Ways to live greener

In November we also launched our Guide to Living Greener on our website. This is part of our commitment to help members understand how, by making small changes in and around your homes, you can positively impact climate change. Visit leedsbuildingsociety.co.uk/greenerliving to find out more.

Helping you to play your part too

In November we also became the first UK lender to help members use their mortgage to make a difference to the environment.

On a pilot basis, we introduced a carbon offset commitment on all our new purchase 95% LTV (loan to value) mainstream residential fixed rate mortgages.

We committed to offset 4.2 tonnes of carbon for members taking out a 95% LTV residential fixed rate mortgage, for each year of their fixed term.

This means members can use their mortgage to significantly reduce their home's carbon footprint without having to initially make any costly home efficiency improvements.

Supporting our people to support you

We're proud to have achieved a coveted 3 Star rating in the Best Companies employer 2022 survey. These stories from three of our colleagues show how we're building a diverse and inclusive culture for everyone, so we can serve you in the best possible way.

It's important
we reflect the diversity of our members

Netré Shawa-Bell
Secretary of the Leeds Building
Society Race Equality Forum

“I joined the Society six months ago and race equality was at the top of my agenda. I knew the Society had a Leaders in Diversity accreditation, so I got involved in the forum as soon as I joined. The forum allows me to challenge what we're doing and help maintain our accreditation.

During Black History Month in October 2021, I got to talk to our CEO Richard Fearon about his time living in Zambia, where I was also born and raised. It was good to find out how he felt about living there. It was also good hearing what he wants to do to ensure we have a more diverse colleague outlook that reflects our membership.

Leeds, where I live, is a diverse city, and so are all our Society members. It's important to reflect that across the people that work here.

By having the forum we're able to challenge and question senior leaders and their strategy. This openness is really refreshing. There's an appetite across the senior leadership team here to see real change and our accreditation shows this.”

We can all benefit from listening to other viewpoints

Victoria Kenny
from the Leeds Building Society
Gender Diversity Forum

“The Gender Diversity Forum is here to promote awareness of gender among our colleagues and to support the Society to increase the proportion of female senior leaders.

This year we've run events on Women in IT, networking sessions on empowerment for our female leaders and even hosted a discussion with the Menopause Warrior, who featured in a recent Channel 4 documentary.

We've provided colleagues with useful information on parental leave, women's personal safety and men's mental health (with Leeds Rhinos) and run surveys on how the menopause affects colleagues.

We're currently working on some exciting policy changes to provide free sanitary products for our colleagues and to support our non-binary and transgender members.

In 2021, I'm proud we've worked more closely than ever with the Race Equality and Mental Health Forums and LGBTQ+ Network to share knowledge and ideas. We can all benefit from listening to other viewpoints and ideas and it's fantastic to see more and more colleagues getting involved in these conversations and tackling subjects that might once have been taboo in the workplace.”

I can flex my work around my childcare needs

Craig Mundy
Change team, Head Office

“I've been on paternity leave twice at Leeds Building Society now. My first paternity leave was smooth sailing but my second was a lot rougher because our son spent time in hospital. He's a happy, healthy boy now, though.

While I was on paternity leave, my team found the right balance of recognising this was a big moment for me and my family and not bombarding me with too many messages or work updates. My manager also helped me feel supported too.

I'm pleased the Society got a 3 Star accreditation in the Best Companies employer survey. I have a great work/life balance and the Society is fantastic at encouraging this. It's made even easier now with working from home options in place. I can flex my work around my childcare needs and most people seem to have an appreciation for what you may be going through as a new parent or someone with a newborn.”

Meet the directors

AGM 2022 is your chance to vote for the Society's board of directors and other important matters.

Your vote really does make a difference – a director will only be elected or re-elected if the majority of members vote in their favour. Your vote empowers them to act in your best interests.

By responding to the world around us and preparing for the future, the appointed directors will work to ensure the Society remains strong and secure, so we can be here for our members for another 145 years.

Gross capital as a percentage of shares and borrowings

The gross capital ratio measures the proportion that the Group's gross capital bears to the Group's liabilities to holders of shares and borrowings. The Group's gross capital consists of profits accumulated over many years in the form of general reserves together with other reserves, revaluation reserves, subordinated liabilities and subscribed capital which cannot be repaid in priority to ordinary investors. Capital provides a financial cushion against difficulties that might arise in the Group's business and, therefore, protects investors.

Liquid assets as a percentage of shares and borrowings

The liquid assets ratio measures the proportion that the Group's assets held in the form of cash, short term deposits and other securities bears to the Group's shares and borrowings. Liquid assets are generally readily realisable, enabling the Group to meet requests by investors for withdrawals from their accounts, to make new mortgage loans to borrowers and to fund its general business activities.

Profit for the year as a percentage of mean total assets

The profit/assets ratio measures the proportion that the Group's profit after taxation for the year bears to the average of the Group's total assets during the year. The Group needs to make sufficient profit each year in order to maintain its capital ratios at a suitable level to protect investors.

Management expenses as a percentage of mean total assets (cost to mean asset ratio)

The management expenses ratio measures the proportion that the Group's management expenses bear to the average of the Group's total assets during the year. Management expenses consist mainly of the costs of employing staff, running the Group's branches and offices, information technology costs, depreciation and amortisation. Expenses are controlled so that the Group operates as efficiently as possible while providing the service that members require.

Directors' remuneration report

Dear member,

I am pleased to present this year's Remuneration Committee's report. The report includes a summary of our Remuneration Policy, together with key decisions made in the year.

The focus of the Committee is to set our Remuneration Policy, base pay, variable remuneration and other benefits for executive directors and Material Risk Takers. The Committee also has oversight of reward for the broader colleague population and I particularly welcomed the significant investment in colleagues in 2021.

Performance and awards 2021

Earlier sections of the report have explained that we have delivered an extraordinary performance across all our key metrics and, as such, our variable pay outturn reflects this performance.

As reported last year, significant changes were made to the variable pay scheme last year, providing a stronger link to our culture and behaviours. This is an important step in providing a clearer link to our mutual culture.

As part of the changes, the Committee decided to reduce the maximum bonus potential from 50% to 20%, thereby aligning the bonus scheme potential for the entire Senior Leadership Team.

After careful consideration, annual bonuses of between 16.7% and 18.8% (2020: 40.8% and 41.4%) have been awarded for 2021 to the executive directors, which represents between 83.5% and 94% (2020: 82% and 83%) of the maximum award available.

In arriving at the decision to award variable remuneration, a full risk assessment process is undertaken, during which the Committee considers a range of factors and input from the Board Risk Committee. Following full consideration, no adjustment was deemed necessary. The Remuneration Policy has operated as intended.

As reported last year, the executive directors, other members of the Senior Leadership Team and non-executive directors (including the Chair) did not receive an annual pay or fee increase in April 2021. Basic salary increases for colleagues ranged from 0% to 25%, with an average of 5.80% in the year.

In light of the uncertainty surrounding the pandemic, the Committee took the decision to defer the 2020 variable remuneration for executive directors and re-test the outturn in 2021. This re-test has confirmed the outturn reported last year and endorses the strong performance achieved in 2020. The 2020 awards received by executive directors will be made in April 2022 and are subject to the normal payment and deferral schedule.

Directors' Remuneration Policy

We are asking members to approve a change to the Directors' Remuneration Policy at the 2022 AGM. Following the significant changes to the structure of remuneration packages in 2021, we are not proposing major changes this year. However, during 2021, there has been increasing competition for talent and we are not immune to this. Whilst we have the option to use retention bonuses for all colleagues in the Society, we are seeking additional flexibility to make retention awards specifically to executive directors in exceptional cases, where we believe it is necessary in the interests of members and the Society to retain the service of an executive director. These awards are designed to incentivise a key individual to stay with the Society for a limited period and during the completion of a specific project or other multi-year deliverable; and the flexibility will ensure we have the capacity to respond to a particular circumstance, without having to permanently increase pay levels.

Any retention awards will be subject to regulatory requirements around variable pay and we are proposing the Committee has the flexibility to make an award up to the maximum permitted (in conjunction with the annual bonus) without breaching the regulatory cap on variable pay, of 100% of fixed pay.

Directors' remuneration report

Presently, for example, the Remuneration Committee is considering the successful delivery of the critical, multi-year core system migration programme.

I can assure you that the Committee will be, as we always are, focused on the interests of members, colleagues and other stakeholders when considering whether to make an award. If we do use the flexibility, we will explain carefully in the subsequent annual report why we considered it was necessary to do so.

The full Remuneration Policy is available in the 2021 Annual Report and Accounts.

Other matters considered by the Remuneration Committee

As well as myself as Chair, the Committee consisted of three other non-executive director members: Annette Barnes, David Fisher and Gareth Hoskin.

There were four meetings in 2021, dealing with the review of compliance with the Remuneration Code, the setting and review of performance against objectives, reviewing the variable remuneration schemes for 2022, Gender Pay Gap reporting and the oversight of reward for the broader colleague population.

Looking ahead

We will continue to ensure we have the right reward structures to support our mutual culture, purpose and the long term sustainability of the Society. As such, for 2022, the Committee has approved the inclusion of specific measures for our diversity and inclusion and climate change aspirations in the annual variable remuneration scheme.

I trust this report is helpful and informative. The Remuneration Committee recommends that members vote in favour of the 2021 Directors' Remuneration Report and the referenced change to the Remuneration Policy at the AGM.

Directors' remuneration report

Executive director remuneration summary for 2021

The total remuneration received by executive directors for 2021 is detailed below, compared with 2020. The total remuneration for executive directors equates to 1.2% of profit before tax (2020: 2.0%). This information has been audited and shows remuneration for the years ended 31 December 2020 and 31 December 2021, as required to be reported under the Building Societies (Accounts and Related Provisions) Regulations 1998. The awards made in respect of performance in 2021 are in line with the 2021 Remuneration Policy, with a maximum variable pay of 20% for executive directors.

The Chief Executive Officer is the Society's highest paid colleague. As we are a mutual organisation, we have no share capital and, therefore, do not offer share-based remuneration to executive directors or colleagues.

Helping families face dementia

Dementia UK became our national charity partner in 2020 – as voted for by you and our colleagues. The charity provides specialist dementia support for families through its Admiral Nurse service. Our goal is to raise £500,000 for Dementia UK by 2024.

Let's keep the conversation going
